- » No travel expenses
- » Less time away from your job
- » Over 30 courses from which to choose

Business Challenge

In today's business climate, organizations must strive to keep costs down and eliminate wasteful spending while continuing to increase efficiency. Working with a smaller budget and, often, a smaller staff, your professionals must be highly skilled in order to increase business and IT productivity. How do you manage to keep your professionals trained without emptying your budget?

BMC Solution: Web-based Training

With BMC Educational Services, cuts in budget don't have to mean sacrificing the training and best practice education you need. With our interactive, dynamic, self-paced Web-based training (WBT), you can maximize your productivity while minimizing your expenditure on education. Many of our learning paths start with this high-level, self-paced, self-accessed WBT and work as Part One of our technology learning paths. Whether BMC Remedy AR, BMC CMDB or BMC BladeLogic; WBT is a superb way to further your knowledge of BMC solutions while saving time and money. We even offer ITIL certification via this vehicle so that your company has access to the industry best practices knowledge that will keep you ahead of the competition.

Lab simulations in BMC Web-based training give the learner hands-on practice and deeper solution know-how.

The user-friendly Web-based training interface allows students to navigate through their lessons with ease.
